

I am aware of my cultural heritage

Raising awareness for cultural values is the chief purpose of our Project. Having an understanding approach to cultural awareness will have an important role in teenagers' developing attitudes and values. This will lead them to discover their own customs as well as to get to know various cultures in the world. They will be able to name tangible/intangible values. Thus they will be able to realize language is not only something learnt but also it opens new doors to see the world with a new perspective of life. Via some activities such as surveys, meetings, seminars, students will become willing to learn, study, share their ideas more confidently. They will learn to show tolerance, respect for cultural issues with an intercultural understanding. Our students will develop transversal skills such as scientific and technological culture, ICT, take initiatives, collaborative working, personal and language competence. They will have the opportunity to make new friends and be more sociable. In this Project we work with Serbia, Italy and Turkish schools.
